

CCI awarded prestigious AMO® accreditation by IREM®

For immediate release

Westlake Village, CA- July 23, 2024 – CCI’s Property Management division recently earned the Accredited Management Organization (AMO®) accreditation from the Institute of Real Estate Management (IREM). CCI joins an exclusive group of over 500 real estate management companies worldwide that have met the requirements to earn this distinction.

AMOs demonstrate strong financial performance, outstanding leadership, and adhere to a Code of Professional Ethics strictly enforced by IREM to maintain integrity beyond reproach. Accreditation as an AMO requires firms to follow best practices in real estate management, demonstrating that they meet standards and functions related to operations and service. Property owners can be assured that an AMO will put their interests first.

"Receiving the AMO accreditation is a testament to our unwavering commitment to excellence in property management. This recognition underscores our dedication to maintaining the highest standards of integrity and service for our residents, investors and agency partners and is a real point of pride for our teammates," said Chris Brown, Executive Vice President at CCI.

"By earning the AMO accreditation, your business earns the respect of your peers, employees, future employees, and your clients," says Barry Blanton, CPM®, 2022 IREM president and founding principal at Blanton Turner, an AMO real estate management and consulting firm based in Seattle, Washington. "You're joining an elite group of companies operating at the top of their game, and the AMO designation puts you at the top of the industry for reputation, stability, and exceptional, ethical conduct. Congratulations to CCI for this achievement and relentless pursuit of excellence in real estate management."
